ABOUT ME

Demeara Virgil is a women's empowerment advocate, author, and entrepreneur whose mission is to help women heal, rise, and walk boldly in their purpose. She is the founder of Kweenduhm, a purpose-driven platform that creates for a cause through community, collaboration, and awareness.

Through her own journey of healing and restoration, Demeara discovered her calling to create safe spaces where women can grow, share, and rebuild. What began as a personal season of change has evolved into a cause-driven movement focused on empowering women to break generational cycles, rediscover their worth, and step into who they are becoming.

KWEENDUHM

Kweenduhm is a community-centered brand that uses creative expression, apparel, and design as tools for awareness and impact. Every creation is rooted in a message—shining light on real stories, real struggles, and real hope. Through campaigns, collaborations, and storytelling, Kweenduhm exists to spark conversation, uplift voices, and create for a cause.

HER BRIDGE COLLECTIVE

Her Bridge Collective is a trauma-informed resource and mentorship initiative under Kweenduhm, created to support women and girls who are navigating healing, transition, and personal growth. Through safe spaces, mentorship, and community-led programs, HerBridge provides encouragement, education, and connection.

Demeara is also a mentor, speaker, and author who bridges the gap between faith, healing, and personal growth. Her work is grounded in the belief that awareness creates understanding—and understanding leads to change when women walk together.

FOUNDER'S VISION

Demeara's vision is to build communities where women feel seen, supported, and empowered to grow—and where creativity is used to advocate for healing, justice, and hope.

She believes that when women come together around a cause, their stories become powerful tools for awareness and impact. Through collaboration, faith, and purpose-driven work, she creates spaces where voices are amplified and lives are changed.

Her mission is to help women rise beyond their past and walk boldly into their purpose—while using creativity to shine light, build connection, and create meaningful change.
